Reason for Allowance

1. Claims 1-55 are allowable.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the present invention relates to a method and apparatus for providing a field emission infrared detector/display system incorporating programmable elements facilitating the compensation for pixel by pixel variation in a displayed image. Each independent claim identifies the uniquely distinct features " a programmable element having a first terminal coupled to a first select line to receive a first select signal, a second terminal coupled to a gate terminal of said transistor, and a gate terminal coupled to a second select line, said programmable element being responsive to assertion of a second select signal on said second select line to selectively establish a second conductive path for a second current between said first line and said gate terminal of said transistor, thereby applying said first voltage to said gate terminal of said transistor (claims 1, 10); a programmable element having a first terminal coupled to said gate of said transistor, a second terminal adapted to receive a select signal having a predetermined voltage level, and a third terminal adapted to receive a control signal, wherein said programmable element is responsive to activation of said control signal to adjust said predetermined voltage level of said select signal by a preprogrammed amount and apply said adjusted select signal to a gate of said transistor (claim 26 and 37); a programmable element for determining a level of voltage adjustment to said separate select signal, such that said programmable element determines the intensity of light emitted from a phosphor layer (claim 49)". disclose similar system, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above quoted limitations obvious.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
